To Herb or Not To Herb – That is The Question

Huntsville Botanical Garden
Murray Hall

October 14, 2017

10 am – 2 pm

Join us on October 14 at the Huntsville Botanical Garden for a day of herbal activities. The day will begin with two Master Gardeners speaking on herbs followed by an herbal cooking demo that will include tips and tastings. We will complete the morning's activities with a box lunch featuring herbal dishes.

The afternoon will begin with an introduction to herbal fragrances. This new knowledge will be applied to two hands-on sessions where you will make items that can be used for holiday gift giving, for hostess gifts or simply for your own enjoyment.

Door prizes will be given at each session, you may purchase chances on an herbal raffle basket, and a limited selection of our famous herbal items will be available for sale.

Herb Society members will be available to answer questions, herbal tips will be shared, and handouts will be provided for each activity.

Space is limited, so register early.
